

WORDPLAY: Therapy Session

When the world needs your light, the supply is unlimited. When you need the worlds light, the service is disconnected. Shrouded in darkness, with not even a candles flicker to show the way, how does one heal? Andrew Boyds result is to conduct his own Therapy Session. This fifth book in the WORDPLAY poetry series is a chronicle of crepuscules that Andrew has faced throughout his life, some unbeknownst to those who believed knew him best. What he hopes to accomplish through this psychoanalysis is the prescription to understanding, development and sustainable peace.
