

This book collects the first five parts of the serial novel Round Up At The Burger bar: The Legend of Trixie Pug. These stories are set in the year 3003. By the year 3333 1/3 massive fast food corporations control the galaxy. Trixie is destined to become the galaxy's 2nd most powerful CEO for a fast food franchise called Heavenly Sky Burger. These stories reveal the early adventures of Trixie and her friend Cherry Bomb thirty years before she becomes a CEO. In these stories you will discover how Trixie became the hungry woman she eventually becomes. The story is satire and meant to be a funny satirical take on our possible future, and like any good SF, answers questions; What if fast food corporations controlled the galaxy and the future? What problems would occur? And how would we overcome these problems? I truly hope you read this story in the light it was meant and enjoy the ride and laugh at the absurdities that occur sometimes when you ask these questions. To read more about Trixie check out the short story, Big Business and the novel Attack of the Lushites.
