

Hot Loins

Victoria Billings is a well-educated professional, beautiful, and charismatic woman who seems to have it all. Her parents, who have been married for years, absolutely adore her. She has great friends. She's able to live a life of luxury. She has practically everything a girl could dream of except a man—she's single and celibate, desperately yearning for companionship. How long can she withhold when raging hormones constantly remind her of her sexual desires? Can she resist temptation when it slithers in? Living a life as such, will she ever find true love?
